VERSA-LOK Retaining Wall Systems provide unlimited design flexibility, unsurpassed durability and fast, mortarless installation. Modifying units by splitting or sawing reveals consistent coloration throughout each unit. And because the units are integrally colored, color cannot chip or peel off.

The units are manufactured from high-strength, low-absorption concrete and are ideal for all residential, commercial and agency projects.

Solid VERSA-LOK
units can be modified
right on the job site,
eliminating the need
to order special units

for corners or curves. State transportation departments and the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers routinely specify VERSA-LOK for their most demanding applications.
